M. Clifford Handbags

If you read Martha Clifford's description of the kind of woman she designs her handbag collection for, you'll understand why I'm so completely smitten with them.

The M. Clifford woman is elegant, sophisticated, and confident. She's a fashion connoisseur, yet never a slave to trends. She is discerning and always seeking something unusual and special; not just the "it" bag of the season.

A woman after my own heart. She managed to sum up my philosophy on handbags, and fashion in general, much better than I ever could. Martha's handbag collection (a.k.a. M. Clifford Designs) is nothing short of spectacular - in a modern and subtly glamorous way that is.

The 'Terrell' in charcoal w/ croc-embossed trim, navy and black

All her bags are well-appointed with spacious dimensions and various pockets meant to provide women with all the comforts they expect in a designer handbag. She employs the finest Italian leathers to give her designs a luxurious feel yet manages to maintain her unique creations affordable (all under $500). When you browse her carefully-crafted designs you'll come to realize that, for Martha, handbags are not just accessories for a woman's wardrobe, they're the focal point. As they should be in my humble opinion.

Love the Terrell in charcoal. That may just go on my wish list for Santa.

You have to hold one of the M.Clifford bags to fully appreciate how well made they are. The inside is lined with her signature red suede. The Meghann is my favorite. It will always be in style! The new fall bag, the Renee, is very versatile, going from shoulder bag to oversized clutch with the removal of a strap...It's a must have!! The
