The New "It" Bags: ELEZAR, Fil...

This fall I'm in the quest for the next "It" handbag, something that wasn't seen on Lindsay Lohan, Nicole Richie, or one of the Desperate Housewives. At least not yet...

BagTrends.com Arm Candy party was a perfect place to spot those soon-to-be-Hollywood-favorite accessories. The bags guru Pamela Pekerman has a great eye to spot these and she even managed to put them all in one room for a big bag-a-licious party.

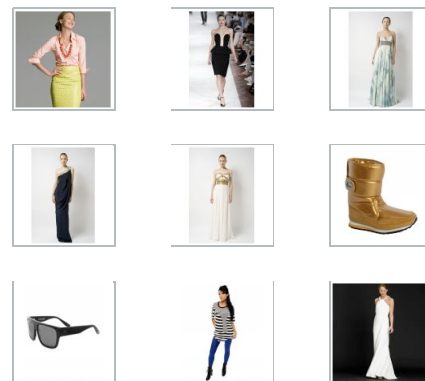

Frankly, being very picky in my handbags choices, I was overwhelmed by the amazing quality and styles. I tried to narrow down my favorites, so here they are, my new favorite "It" bags for Fall:

Filippa Sweet of Stockholm.

These bags are brand new, so the website is coming soon... for now enjoy this sneak peek. The floral accents are so unique and beautiful!

Ignes Handbags.

The fact that is unique about Ignes is that you can customize your own bag, right from their website. Pick the color and details, and your bag will be delivered in a month! My favorite pick is this Mini Ormala in Raspberry:

M.Clifford Designs So practical, yet unique - this is my favorite choice for a travel bag. This classic and trendy at the same time, very luxurious looking bag will carry you through the seasons. A great investment:

Magnes Sisters

Dina, Yael, and Tamar Magnes - three Israeli born sisters - know how to come up with very recognizable unique collections. While their laptop bags, coming in variety of funky color combinations are superb, I find the chic clutches being the best:

ELEZAR

NYC based designers Esther Barron and Julie Lazarus create the perfect everyday bags that could carry everything from your laptop to makeup collection. Large Morgan Tote is a real hit:
